

In a stable close to town

In a dream I had last night, The stars shined brightly down.
A young couple, spent the night, In a stable close to town.

The man was tired from a walk, The woman trodden down,
Went into labor, then and there, In a stable close to town.

There was no doctor to attend, no nurse was to be found
Just this couple, cold and scared, In a stable close to town.

The child was born, a little boy, They wrapped in cloth they found.
Laid in a manger that was there, In a stable close to town.

The sky lit up, angels sang, A song was heard around,
Peace on earth good will toward men, Over a stable close to town.

Shepard's tending flocks, Searched and sought and found
The newborn baby lying there, In a stable close to town.

It was no dream, it was there, Near the town of Bethlehem.
The Son of God that night was born, In a stable close to town.
